Be part of the next 25 years – Support Theatre Peckham today!

Over the past 25 years Theatre Peckham has introduced theatre to the lives of tens of thousands of people – adults, teenagers and children. Theatre introduces both performers and audiences to their own creative talents – it offers a more exciting (and safer) life out of school than the street. We train actors, technicians and administrators for the arts' industries, but just as important are the confidence and new skills that all our young people gain at Theatre Peckham – skills which lead to success in all kinds of occupations.

Please consider becoming a Sponsor for our Education Programme, which will enable us to continue to offer young people the opportunity to participate in our courses, irrespective of their background and financial resources. We offer a unique artistic and educational service – but the real cost of providing this service is far higher than our members are frequently able to pay.

The Arts are for everyone, not just the few – let us work together to make sure that is true!

Sponsor A Future Talent! Here's what your donations will support:

£35 Will cover the costs for one child to attend one workshop for one term

£50 Helps one young person attend an Advanced Level workshop for one term

£300 Pays for one young person to attend Theatre School for a year

£1,000 Gives a young person the chance to study for a BTEC in Performing Arts

You can donate via the Donate button on the front of our website, over the phone, or by putting money in one of the donation buckets tonight.

CLASS ACTS

25th Anniversary Celebration

BBC Performing Arts Fund
Supporting new talent

Sunday 24th July 2011 5pm

Teresa Early Artistic Director and Founder

Welcome to tonight's performance of Class Acts - a window on the world of Theatre Peckham's classes and workshops.

Many of our audiences know about the Musical Theatre Productions for which our company is well known, but few know the skilled and committed work that underlies the public shows.

This is our chance to showcase all the work of preparation and development that goes on year round behind the scenes - and with it the talents of some of the very many young people who regularly attend. Creativity is embedded in the company. Jreena Green contributes terrific choreography Timeless Steps, Anthem, and A cappella Tap; 3 Summers On was created by BTEC Students and written by Denise Keane; The Magician's Story created by Jack Murray and Johnny's Tap Dance by Johnny (Aaron Davies) himself!

The young people of Peckham are often portrayed in a very negative way – as anti-social, members of gangs, maybe moving and living outside the law. We know the self same youngsters as gifted, caring, and striving to keep their talents, and their hopes, alive in spite of public perceptions.

At Theatre Peckham we support our members, and their parents, in their commitment to achieve to the top of their ability. We hope you too will see from tonight's performances the precious value and promise of these young lives.

I only recently discovered the extraordinary work going on at Theatre Peckham. It is an exciting centre for the performing arts, and for many young people is a focus and a lifeline. The Centre nurtures talent and provides skills teaching communication and discipline as well as creating a wonderful environment Jenny Agutter

As well as the workshop programme, Theatre Peckham works extensively in a number of ways with schools, communities and external agents creating and delivering projects across the performing arts. Projects are designed to meet and measure a range of social outcomes; including significant improved literacy results, development of speech and voice techniques, improved confidence, creativity and resilience.

You have been instrumental in getting him through his teenage years thus far. Thank you for believing in him, encouraging him, accepting him and liking him. It's because of who you are that young people in your care can become who they are meant to be.

Theatre Peckham changed my life. It is my life. It's what I enjoy most.
BTEC Student

The children have been really inspired by the project and their writing levels (National Curriculum Levels) have really improved. Theatre helps them to become emotionally involved. The children have more self confidence and self awareness, improved listening skills, more involvement in learning. A unique opportunity!!
